Company Story

Service Trucks Australia is a family owned and operated Australian business. The directors, Ross and Regan Yendle have always been around trucks for the best part of their working lives. With more than 15 years working in the industry, the next logical progression was to start a business. So in 2012 Service Trucks Australia was launched. Today, Service Trucks Australia has five operational branches Australia wide.

Service Trucks Australia aims to redefine the traditional role of a contractor by creating a customer-focused organization that offered clients consistent and reliable delivery of service. Having worked in the industry themselves, Ross and Regan understand just how crucial it is to have reliable, durable equipment on hand. The business model puts the customers at its core, providing solutions to meet the needs of the clients.
